

S & D BRANCH SPORT GOODS FACTORY OPEN

Stall & Dean Company Start Operations With 25 Machines Installed.

The branch factory opened on Third avenue by Stall & Dean, makers of sport goods, began turning out baseball and basketball uniforms today, with a dozen girls employed to operate the power sewing machines and a number of other workers at various positions.

T. J. Hartman, manager of the Chicago factory and member of the firm, is in charge of operations and will remain in Rock Island supervising the work for the time being. Walter Quaver will have the management of the Rock Island factory.

There are now machines to accommodate 25 women operators installed in the building and as many more will be set up within a short time. A small corps of workers were initiated into the work this morning and others will be given work as soon as they can be secured.

Mr. Hartman has had the building renovated and made completely up-to-date. Although work has been held up because of the delay in shipment of the machinery and the difficulty of securing workmen, improvements on the building are now well under way.

The entire building has been cleaned and will be refurnished on the interior. The machines are on the second floor, where plenty of light and air is afforded the operators. The lower floor will be used as offices, and will be modernized in every respect.

COMMUNITY CLUB SCORES SUCCESS IN A CLEVER PLAY

A very amusing comedy in three acts was presented last evening by the dramatic club auxiliary of the Rock Island Community club at the high school auditorium before a good sized audience. "Lost—A Chapter" proved very entertaining, the lines being clever and the characters of the sketch being taken and handled in a way which took the greatest advantage of the opportunities presented by the vehicle comedy. It is very likely, due to the success of the presentation last evening, that the comedy will be offered a second time at some later date. Much credit for the honor won by the players is due Mrs. Helene B. Churchill, who directed the play. The cast of characters:

George Higgins, an Illinois A. B.—Hugh Murray.
Jack Abbott, Fred Lawton, Illinois sub-freshmen—Haley Rensdale and Wendell Ray.

Raymond Fitzhugh, Harvard student, also a poet—Harry Kale.
Dick Norton, Tom Crosby, Off Hill engineers—Harvey Crawford and Roland Parker.

Marjorie Tyndall, George's cousin and N. W. student—Thesis Hickok.
Alice Bennett, Agnes Arabella Bates, Ruth French, Blanche Westcott, Northwestern girls—Eva Simmonds, Catherine O'Brien, Vera Bronson and Gertrude Bleuer.

Mrs. Higgins, girls' chaperon and George's mother—Mrs. Blanche Claeson.
Mrs. Sparrow, a nearby farmer's wife—Kathryn Miller and Goldie Ecklund.

Lizette Sparrow, Mandy Sparrow, daughters—Kathryn Miller and Goldie Ecklund.

Synopsis—Act 1, girls' summer camp. Act 2, fellows' camp across the lake. Act 3, same place as act 1. Time, 10 a. m.

DELEGATES TO MEET ARE NAMED

Credentials Made Out to Representatives of Rock Island at Waterways Convention.

Credentials have been issued to a number of delegates to attend the convention of the Mississippi Valley association and the Waterways' association to be held at St. Louis the latter on April 19, and the former on April 20 and 21, by Harry H. Cleveland, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Rock Island. Colonel Harry Burgess, head of the United States engineers' office for the upper Mississippi will attend in his official capacity, and necessary papers have been issued to I. S. White, Ben Lamont, traffic manager for the Rock Island Plow company; Charles Nourse, manager of the Standard Table Oilcloth company, and Charles Shields, manager of the Rock Island Manufacturing company. Mr. White also bears with him credentials from the city of Cincinnati, Ohio. It is expected that, business permitting, all the delegates named from Rock Island will attend. The recommendations for credentials were made by S. W. Searle.

Considerable importance is ascribed to the meeting for at that time some action will be taken upon the question of permitting coastwise bottoms to pass through the Panama canal toll-free, upon condition that they stop at New Orleans. Such a distinction would increase the upriver freight on the Mississippi and would mean much to river towns.

Regional Head of Community Clubs to Meet Citizens

Harry L. Allen, regional director of the war camp community service, will meet tonight with the board of directors of the Rock Island community club at the rooms in the State bank building. Any citizens interested in the work of the club are invited to attend, and it is anticipated that the suggestions offered both by Mr. Allen and the people who will confer with the board of directors will be very influential in molding the policies directing the activities of the organization during the coming months.

Invitations have been sent out to quite a number of the citizens who have evinced their interest in the club by active participation in the activities, but any others are cordially invited to attend the session.

Boy Scout News

Troop No. 6 of the First Baptist church will hold their meeting at the Y this evening with Scoutmaster Leroy Sady. This troop is busy lining up a real live troop committee and so far have signed up Willis Woods, Y. M. C. A. physical director, and W. G. Murphy, one of the deputy scout commissioners. They intend to have the best troop in the city if their present plans work out.

Troop No. 14, Rock Island's splendid colored troop, will meet at the legion hall this evening with Scoutmaster William Taylor at 7:30. This troop copped the high honors in last year's athletic meet and intend to repeat this year if possible. Boys are requested to bring their gym shoes with them so that they may play basketball this evening.

Troop No. 1 A and Troop No. 21 will play a scheduled game of basketball Friday evening at the legion gym to decide the heavyweight championship of Scout troops in the city. Both of these teams were too heavy to enter the Scout tournament and Friday night's game will decide the question as to the best team in the city regardless of weight.

The scoutmasters of the city met in the scout executive's office last evening to decide work for this summer. Plans for summer camp were discussed and a number of scoutmasters stated that they would try to spend some time in camp. The local council is giving each scoutmaster two weeks' free stay at the summer camp. Because of the fact that most of them are busy men, they will be unable to take their two weeks in one stay, but will have to take a few days at a time. In this way it is hoped that every scout leader in the city can get to camp for a real outing. The camp has golf grounds and tennis courts and these will appeal more to the scoutmasters than to the Scouts themselves.

We buy all kinds of second hand furniture and stoves. Carter Bros. Phone R. I. 1335.

VISITING WEEK TO BE OBSERVED BY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The first "go to school week" since the outbreak of the war will be observed in the schools of Rock Island May 6 and 7, Superintendent E. C. Fisher announced today. During the war the custom of setting aside a particular week each year, when parents and friends of the schools might visit the schools and inspect their work was discontinued. The plan has always proved so practical and beneficial that the school authorities decided to continue it. In 1916 during visiting week 12,000 persons visited the schools of Rock Island, records show, and Mr. Fisher is anxious that an even greater number will visit them this year, as the interest and support of the community is invaluable to the schools.

Field day, which generally comes late in May or early in June, will not be observed this year, as it requires too much preparation to be practical, Mr. Fisher said. Plans for the observance of Arbor day, April 23, are, however, well under way. The day has been set aside throughout the state by a special proclamation signed by Governor Frank O. Lowden. To aid in its celebration the state department of education has sent out a beautiful illustrated circular containing a song-bird pageant and directions for the planting and care of the trees prepared by Francis G. Blake, superintendent of public instruction.
